7 inches, and height 3 feet 10 inches. The horns of this fine Sheep may measure more than five feet round the curves.
The JRocky Mountain Bighorn (Q. tnontanti) is a Sheep ranging along the Rockies as far south as ISTew Mexico, and also to the far north; they are not confined to the chain of mountains mentioned, but occur also on the mountains of British Colombia down to those of California. The horns are not quite as large FiO. 171, — Himalayan Bun-hoi Sheep.

as those of the last species, hut measurements give a length (along the curve) of 32 to 40 inches, Just as the Goats are often limited to islands and small stretches of country., so axe the Sheep. Thus Cyprus has a species, O. ophion, peculiar to itself. This, which is known as the Cyprus Mouflon, is limited to a range of mountains, the Iteodos, in that island. In 1878 it was believed that the was nearly exterminated, a flock of twenty-five members mirviving. 'They have, however, since increased. Confined